

MailScan

The first real-time content security software that performs content filtering and virus scanning of the system. It provides complete and secure messaging solutions for e-business. It is designed to provide extensive security against viruses and e-mails carrying harmful content, dealing with these threats before they enter the network in the same way that a firewall controls user access. It acts like a transparent gateway between the corporate mail server and the Internet, ensuring maximum security in delivering messages.
